

John Stebbins, William H. Huber, Charles R. Gleason, Garrett May, Martin M. Hollister, Louis...

Mr. Mitchell had received with great cheering, and after a few remarks immediately presented Dr. Parkhurst, saying: "He is the man who made the situation possible."

It was several minutes before the applause and cheers ceased which followed Dr. Parkhurst's advances to the front of the platform, and then only after the chairman had, by word and gesture, asked for silence.

General La Grange, who came next, spoke in part as follows: "Comrades, we have had a long hard march since we left Saratoga. The roads were rough, the weather stormy, rationed scant and no pay...

Unless there be changes in the departments, his opportunities are hopeless. I could enumerate with an evangelical and wicked delight the heads which I would like to see topped off, yes, I would like to see the Mayor's head topped off."

Dr. Parkhurst expressed his faith in the people's God, and said: "Because I believe there is enough of the good spirit I have a grand and a proud hope that the day of our municipal emancipation is near."

When the applause over Dr. Parkhurst began to show signs of subsiding, Mr. Mitchell announced forward with the name of Controller Addison B. Colvin, and presented it as that of the next speaker.
